

Dining Room

Get the look

With a classic base of round black dining table, walnut bentwood chairs and distressed rug. Walnut is making its come back, I love it with black for a modern twist. Add softness with a couple of sheepskin seat pads and some beautiful rich colour with the vintage looking rug. I've added some fun, quirky elements to add personality and whimsy. These playful features are: Grecian head vase, taxidermy duckling (not for everyone, slightly creepy but also cute) and lastly that beautiful scalloped lightshade. This statement light has the most amazing texture with soft curved lines to echo the curves of many of the other pieces. Lastly, with its neutral tone its a statement without being too "statement"! Plants add some fresh greenery and playing with different heights, pot colours and textures looks great too. Keeping with the classic elements, I've added some vintage brass and marble décor items. Such as the marble pear but this could also work with a marble bowl or platter that the vase and duckling could sit on. I also envisioned some brass elements on the black shelving too.

Happy shopping and styling!
